

the Radical Catcher

Free to read. Free to copy.
Free to distribute!

The Radical Catcher provides for you an interesting opportunity. Here's how it works.

The comics published in the Radical Catcher are free for you to read, copy and distribute, so long as you do so by reproducing the Radical Catcher itself, as you see it now.

You can do this by taking it to a photocopier and making copies, folding them yourself, and then giving them to whomever you want. You may even bind them and sell them, considering your profit as commission for helping to promote the comics!

If you wish to do this, please consider visiting the website for back issues, legal concerns and instructions:

Do Your Own Comics!

creativecommons.org

If you produce your own comic and wish to share it with others, whether it is story based or a bunch of jokes, pick your favorite six pages and paste them over the pages in this copy here. Replace the cover graphic with a graphic and comic title of your own. You must leave the masthead and this back page as they are. Make copies! Leave them somewhere!

Better yet, send it to fenmere@grassdogstudio.com or Fenmere, P.O. Box 2363, Bellingham WA 98227 - 2363 and watch it appear on the site. If you do this, Fenmere will distribute 20 copies in Bellingham for you!
